The Art of Transitional Ministry

We live in a time of great transition in our churches and culture. Transitional Ministry Education is intended for those presently engaged in or inquiring about the nature of transitional ministry. This includes Temporary Transitional Ministry positions; which may include interim ministry, designated ministry, other temporary ministry or Installed Transitional Ministry which includes all other parish ministry positions. Committee on Ministry members and presbytery staff persons with responsibility for congregations in this time of transition will also find the education helpful.

Basic Transitional Ministry Education consists of 60 contact hours plus a Practicum. The contact hours are divided equally between two Residency Weeks – Week I (30 hours) and Week II (30 hours) separated by a Practicum which combines reflection on, and experience in, some aspect of interim/transitional ministry.

MALT (Lincoln Trails/Mid-America) offers education for both Weeks I & II. Participants must complete both Residency Week I and all Practicum assignments before taking part in Residency Week II. Those who complete the first week of basic education at another site must complete all MALT Practicum assignments prior to attending Residency Week II.

We offer a full thirty (30) hours of education for each week. If you desire to receive a Statement of Completion for each event, you must actively participate in all sessions in their entirety (30 contact hours).

Residency Week I

Participants will be introduced to and invited to reflect on:

- The dynamics of our context of ministry in transitional times
- Their own self as a leader and leadership for the congregation in transition
- The dynamics of the congregation in a time of transition and the work of the transitional leader
- Working with the congregation as a system, processing change issues, and managing conflict

Practicum Content

Participants will:

- Reflect on their leadership style
- Use analytical skills for reflecting on ministry situations
- Integrate transitional ministry concepts into ministry situations

Residency Week II

Participants will reflect on:

- The dynamics of the transitional period utilizing learning conversations from their own ministry contexts
- Living with and in the congregation as a system and the Transitional Pastor as a self-differentiating leader
- Transition as possibility for congregational transformation, reframed purpose and growing ministry capacity

Executive Leadership Education 3.0

There is no pre-assigned reading for MALT 3.0. We ask that you come well-rested and ready to participate fully throughout our brief time together. On our first day of class, you will receive electronic access to the MALT Weeks 1 & 2 Dropbox. This password-protected Dropbox folder will contain multiple files and resources (including a suggested reading list) which you are free to use during and after MALT.
